

Explorations Worksheet – AY 2022-2023 and forward

Effective Communication: communicate effectively in written, oral, and artistic forms to a variety of audiences.

- one first-year seminar in writing and critical thinking (EH 102 or EH 208)
- one writing reinforcement unit within the major (WR)
- one unit in creative expression outside the major (CE)

Creative Problem Solving: identify and solve problems using a variety of methods.

- one unit in quantitative analysis (QA)
- one unit in scientific methodologies (SM)
- two units in the analysis of people, societies, artifacts, or theories (IA)

Civic Engagement: articulate your place in the world by attending to historical, social, economic, and geographical differences; and attend to competing interests by weighing the costs of privileging one perspective over another. Three of these required:

- courses in a foreign language (up to two units may count)
- courses whose primary concerns are the understanding of subject matter within a global perspective (up to two units may count) (GP)
- courses whose primary interests are in competing ethical, moral, or community interests (up to two units may count) (CI)
- a study abroad experience for at least one fall or spring term (no more than one may be counted toward the three)

Connectivity: identify and employ connections within one academic area, among academic areas, and between the academy and the wider world.

- one designated Explorations in Scholarship seminar (ES)
- one Experiential Learning (EL) project (e.g., internship, teaching fellowship, directed research experience, service-learning integrated course, or other EL-designated project or course); may be credit or non-credit bearing and may overlap with other requirements
- one connections in scholarship senior seminar, within the major

Self-Directed Teaching and Learning: take ownership of your own learning and become a self-directed, self-authorized learner.

- IDS 142 Living a Life of Significance
- two units outside the primary disciplinary designation of the first major and beyond courses used to fulfill other Explorations requirements. Courses used for a minor, academic distinction or second major may be used to fulfill this requirement. Courses used for this requirement do not require any other Explorations designation.
